

Logistics Bureau Free Breakfast Seminars – 2009 Line-Up

Don't miss out!

Logistics Bureau has for a number of years, provided free breakfast seminars to customers. These have recently been opened up to allow a broader participation and are now promoted via industry associations and on the Logistics Bureau website.

The seminar schedule for 2009 includes essentials such as developing Supply Chain strategies that actually work, optimising capital utilisation and reviewing the financial crisis a year in.

Links are available on the website to register your interest in future seminars, so register now to ensure you get your invitations to these very popular events.

Logistics Bureau's 'Big Breakfasts' (complimentary seminars) are held in Sydney, Melbourne, Singapore, Bangkok and elsewhere. Over the years they have proved very popular for senior executives as well as supply chain industry professionals. Examples of feedback below:

"Unfortunately, we were so entertained we failed to take down any notes and while we remembered quite a lot of good ideas, could we please get the slide presentation"?

"There is always something to learn at your events, and today was no exception"

"A complex issue, explained in simple terms, that even I could understand"

"Once again, you hit the nail right on the head, and I learnt some valuable tips"

"Really enjoyed the Outsourcing role play yesterday in the Four Seasons"

"Excellent, great fun and I really learnt a lot too!"

"Outstanding.....as always"

"My team and I particularly enjoyed your presentation this morning; it was especially entertaining to look at it in the dual perspective running through the story"

"Please let me personally congratulate you on a very entertaining and well put together presentation. It was most enjoyable as it was interesting and to the point. Certainly an excellent way to get the message across to all present"

"What a great presentation concept.....what's next"?

"Thanks guys, nice acting, all with an enlightening message".

"All your seminars have been informative and valuable however the last play acting differently held the attention of the whole audience for the entire seminar!"

"Great forum to get practical advice on supply chain improvement methodologies and to meet like minded people"